

CAPITOL BILL IS ADVANCED

Assembly Decides To Pass It To A Third Reading Today.

NORCROSS TALKS FOR THE MEASURE

Senate Passes Measure Relative To The State Veterinarian's Office--Question Of Election Of A Senator Is Discussed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., March 13.—The assembly today fought hotly for hours over the bill to use white granite or marble in the construction of the new capitol building and to build a separate heating plant and warehouse. The chief opposition came from a few who saw in the measure a scheme to make the new statehouse over expensive.

Norcross Talks
Assemblyman Norcross explained that the increased cost of labor and material, "the penalty of the national property," would necessitate an increase in the cost of the capitol material, and he declared that no one was so cheap as to desire that the statehouse be built of mud or clay or cement, but that a stately edifice was desired and the bill would be paid. The bill was advanced, without roll call, the opposition not asking for an aye and no vote.

State Veterinarian
The senate debated and passed a bill to forbid the state veterinarian from being a stockholder or otherwise interested in any patent medicine business. The bill develops out of the opposition which defeated the veterinarians who brought complaint against any confirmation of the executive appointment of Dr. David Roberts, Waukesha, claiming he used his office to aid in the sale of tuberculin and patent remedies for diseases of animals. The vote was 22 to 11.

Senatorial Election
The election of a United States senator to succeed John C. Spooner is in the air. The immediate question to be determined is whether to elect next week or abide by the decision of the attorney general and wait until after the first of May. Most of the members seem to favor the Smith resolution for the immediate election, but interests of some candidates may cause a fight on this proposition and the election be delayed for two months.

ANOTHER CHAPTER IN THE BREATHITT COUNTY FEUD

Judge James Hargis' Trial For The Assassination Of An Antagonist, Is Nearing Its Close.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Lexington, Ky., March 13.—That section of Kentucky long known as the feud district has been the scene during the past week of a trial the result of which was awaited with a lively interest. In the little courthouse at Jackson Judge James Hargis, notorious as the Breathitt county feud leader, is being tried for the alleged assassination of Dr. B. D. Cox. Back of the case lies one of the most bitter feuds ever known in Kentucky, and in which virtually every one in the county is involved directly or indirectly.

Dr. B. D. Cox was assassinated in April, 1902, as he was passing the Hargis residence in Jackson, to visit his child, who was ill. The fatal shots were fired from a shed belonging to Judge James Hargis. Judge Hargis and Sheriff Ed. Callahan were charged with the assassination. Lost June Asbury Spicer, a noted feudist, made a confession in which he swore that Judge Hargis and Ed. Callahan had employed John Smith, John Abner and himself to murder Dr. Cox. He said that after waiting every night for a week for Cox to pass the shed, Elbert Hargis, a brother of the judge, one night signaled to Smith, Abner and himself that Cox was coming. Spicer swore that he dozed, and was awakened by the crack of a gun. He looked up and saw that Smith had just fired, and Abner was in the act of shooting Cox, who lay on the ground groaning. When Cox was dead, Spicer, Smith, and Abner went into Judge Hargis' yard, where Judge James and Senator Alex Hargis and Ed. Callahan awaited them. Judge Hargis commended them for killing Cox. Spicer's confession was corroborated in full last January, when John Smith also made a confession, telling the same story as that of Spicer, saying, however, that he had not fired at Cox.

Hargis and Callahan were likewise accused of complicity in the assassination of James B. Marcum at Jackson on May 4, 1903. They were tried for the crime and acquitted. Smith and Abner, the noted feud leader, are standing trial for the crime at the June term of court.

SENATORIAL FIGHT IN MISSISSIPPI HOT

Money's Place Being Sought By Governor Vardaman and Representative Williams.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Jackson, Miss., March 13.—The senatorial fight in Mississippi has commenced this week in earnest and may be expected to continue at a lively clip till the primaries are held in August. Two United States senators are to be chosen by the legislature which will assemble next January, but as Senator A. J. McLaughlin, one of the incumbents, will be returned without opposition, the contest will be for but one toga, that which now adorns the shoulders of Senator H. D. Money. Senator Money could secure a re-election without trouble, it is believed, but his health has not been good of late and he has consequently decided to retire.

Since Senator Money made his decision known things political in Mississippi have been shaping for one of the most exciting senatorial fights in the history of the state. The rival aspirants for the senate seat are Governor Vardaman and Representative John Sharp Williams, the minority leader in the house. It is impossible at this early stage of the contest to predict the winner with any degree of certainty. Mr. Williams has returned from Washington and from all appearances he intends to make the fight of his life to succeed Money in the senate. It is no secret that he stands higher with the better and more substantial element of the people of Mississippi than does Governor Vardaman. But the latter has a strong "pull" with the masses. Mr. Williams stands well with the people on the greater issues of the day, but Governor Vardaman, on the other hand, has kept closer at home and has captivated the popular fancy by his public declarations regarding those questions in which the people of Mississippi are particularly interested.

ROASTED TO DEATH BY LAMP EXPLOSION

Milwaukee Girl Overturned a Lamp in Her Home and Died Horrible Death.

STOCK MARKET MADE NEW PLUNGE TODAY

Strange Conditions Appear to Exist in New York Financial Circles at Present.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, March 13.—Another break in the stock market soon after beginning of operations today revived the nervous feeling prevailing during the weak period of last week. There are no new developments to account for the heavy selling but it is generally attributed to the immediate needs of the money market. The conditions became panicky by noon and prices melted away in demoralized fashion. The fluctuations became very wild in the early afternoon and heavy blocks of stock were thrown upon the market indiscriminately for what they would bring. Reading dropped twelve points, the Union Pacific nine, and Amalgamated Copper 7-8.

OTTAWA CONGRESS ON TUBERCULOSIS

Physicians and Health Officers From All Parts of Canada Gathered for Annual Meeting.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Ottawa, Ont., March 13.—Physicians, health officers and other delegates from various parts of the Dominion gathered in Ottawa today for the seventh annual meeting of the Canadian Association for the Prevention of Consumption and other forms of Tuberculosis. The congress aims at practical results and the two days' program has been arranged with this end in view. The association is of the opinion that the best results can be attained in increasing the public knowledge regarding the cause, prevention and treatment of tuberculosis. To this end it well endeavor to have a chapter dealing with the subject inserted in the text-books on hygiene to be used in the schools throughout Canada.

AMATEUR ATHLETES OF WEST IN MEET

Central A. A. U. Championship Contests Will Be Held in Chicago Tonight.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., March 13.—The cream of the amateur athletes of half a dozen states will be seen at their best in "Patterson's" tonight on the occasion of the annual indoor championship meet of the Central Association of the A. A. U. While Chicago and Milwaukee have the largest number of entries, the contestants will include representatives of athletic clubs and colleges throughout the Central territory. The usual events comprise the programme, including 60-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard mile and two-mile runs, 60-yard high and low hurdles, high jump, pole vault, sixteen-pound shot put, open mile relay for high schools and academies, 60-yard dash for high schools and academies.

TAILOR FOR INJUNS SELECTED BY EXAM

Government Wants Unmarried Man to Make Togs for Aborigines in Montana.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., March 13.—Uncle Sam needs a tailor in the Indian service at Fort Shaw, Mont., and has advertised for applicants to take the civil service examination today for the place. The advertisements fail to state whether a tailor is wanted who may be able to introduce the latest French cut of clothes to Indian swells, or whether plain Indian blankets, with feather adornments, shall be the styles exploited by the tailor. The applicants, however, must be of the male sex, "unmarried or without family," and must not expect a salary of more than $600 a year to begin with. If his work is satisfactory to the Government and likewise to the Indians it is possible that he may receive more in the future.

ECCENTRIC GRAND DUKE IS POPULAR

German Duchy of Hesse En Fete to Celebrate Fifteenth Anniversary of Ruler's Accession.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Berlin, March 13.—There were great festivities at Darmstadt today in celebration of the fifteenth anniversary of the accession of the reigning grand duke, Ernst Louis V. The Grand Duke, who is a nephew of King Edward VII. of England, is one of the most eccentric royalties of Europe, but at the same time he is personally very popular with his subjects. It is now six years since he was divorced from his first wife, who was the Princess Victoria Melita, the daughter of Queen Victoria's "Sweet Princess Alice." The Grand Duke a year or so ago took a second life in the person of Princess Eleonore of Solms-Hoholmsolms. The Grand Duchess has likewise remarried, her choice being the sweetheart of her youth, the Grand Duke Cyril of Russia.

VENERABLE BISHOP WILL CIRCLE GLOBE

Methodist Doctor and Wife, Who Recently Celebrated Golden Wedding, on Long Trip.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
San Francisco, Cal., March 13.—Among the passengers booked to sail for the Orient today are the venerable Bishop Alpheus W. Wilson of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and Mrs. Wilson, who recently celebrated their golden wedding at their home in Baltimore. They have just crossed the continent on the initial stage of what is to be a circuit of the globe. Their next stop will be Honolulu, where a few days will be passed before resuming the journey across seas to China. Bishop Wilson's first work in China will be to represent the Methodist Episcopal church (South) at the centenary celebration of the entrance of the first Protestant missionary into China. This celebration is to be held at Shanghai the latter part of next month and will be participated in by all missionaries of China and by representatives of the missionary boards that maintain missions in China. After this celebration is concluded Bishop Wilson will go to Japan to attend the first general conference of the new Methodist Episcopal Church of Japan, which will be held in May. He will represent the M. E. Church, South, at the conference, which will mark the union of the work of five great branches of Methodism in Japan.

VERY FEW WILL TRY FOR CONSULSHIPS

Places Offered Under Civil Service Not Being Sought by Enough to Fill Vacancies.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., March 13.—The first of the examinations for the consular service under the new rules laid down by Secretary Root are to be held tomorrow, and the result is awaited with a good deal of anxiety by persons interested in the development of the consular service on civil service lines. It was expected that there would be a large number of applicants, but such has not proven the case. From present indications there will not be a sufficient number to fill all the vacancies that now exist in the consular service or will exist in the near future. The apparent difficulty is in finding applicants properly equipped technically with the necessary knowledge of two languages or more, and at the same time possessing an acquaintance with worldly affairs and business methods likely to make them good consuls.

HOTCHKISS PLEADED FOR GOOD COUNTRY HIGHWAYS

Wisconsin Man Discusses Conditions In Wisconsin Before The National Road Makers' Convention.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Pittsburg, Pa., March 13.—W. O. Hotchkiss addressed the National Roadmakers' convention this afternoon.

In the present highway system of Wisconsin the township is the controlling unit. These townships are divided at the pleasure of the town board of supervisors into road districts. The result of this division has been to cut the towns into such small units that it is almost impossible for even the best intentioned roadmaster to do efficient work. There are townships with twenty-five road districts, each one independent of its neighbors as to the method and time for work. There are road districts with less than two miles of road and as much as $100 per mile of road tax to spend each year in keeping up a common dirt road. Practically all highway taxes are paid in labor.

With regard to road material, Wisconsin is better situated than almost any other state in the middle west. The central and northern parts of the state are composed of the most ancient rocks, including granites, traps, quartzites and associated rocks. About this core there is first a belt of sandstone and then a belt of limestone. With the exception of the sandstone, all these rocks make good road material.

The glaciers that covered the state in recent geological times did great service to the road builders. They crushed up the rocks, grinding the finer parts to powder and leaving the harder parts as boulders or gravel—a natural macadam material. Several thousand miles of roads have been surfaced with this material which the glaciers distributed so generously over large parts of the state. The manner of building has been wasteful and expensive. In fact it could hardly be otherwise with the minute size of the road districts and the antiquated system of working out the tax.

An attempt was made to find out how much the road work being done was actually worth by getting the estimates of various farmers, throughout the state, and the resulting average shows that of the $2,500,000 which they pay for road tax, the people are getting results for only about $1,500,000—in other words are wasting a million dollars a year.

The main problem in Wisconsin, is therefore not to give any great sums as state aid, but to instruct the people how to save the great sums they already have and are wasting. This can be done by building state aid roads, and make such roads far more valuable than a mere local improvement—it makes a road school out of every such road constructed.

To carry out this purpose the state legislature has been asked to appropriate $400,000 annually for the next two years, and the sentiment of the lawmakers seems to be that this should be granted. In addition steps are being taken to amend the constitution to permit the state to appropriate money to aid building hard surfaced roads. When this is done Wisconsin will join the ranks of the state aid commonwealths and continue to uphold her justly earned reputation as one of the best and most progressive states of the west.

Johnson of Illinois then followed with a brief resume of the work done in Illinois.

The Illinois Highway Commission has been established one year, and with an appropriation of but $25,000, the actual physical accomplishment has been necessarily limited. Three things were necessary: First, to find out; second, to demonstrate; and third, to convince; and we are glad to report accomplishment along all of these lines.

A summary of road expenditures of the state shows that in 1905 the total cost of maintaining the 94,141 miles of public highways, including both money and labor tax, was $4,625,365, of which $490,563 is the estimated value of the labor tax levied, $4,134,802 as the actual cash tax raised. Of this amount $1,888,730 was for bridges.

For the first time in this country a systematic census of road traffic has been undertaken and an actual count of vehicles passing over some.

sixty roads in different parts of the state is made for three or four times a month throughout the year. The result of this census will show, among other things, exactly how the condition of the road affects its use.

Special attention has been given to the maintenance of earth roads by road drags. A bulletin on drag roads (25,000 copies) was received the past season, and at present there are about 4000 road drags in use in different parts of the state, most of them made the past season. The simple road drag is the best means of maintaining the clayey and black bumbo roads which abound in Illinois, and the results obtained can scarcely be realized until actually seen.

There is in Illinois a convict labor law which provides that the board of prison industries of the state shall furnish the state highway commission crushed rock for free distribution among the local road officials under such rules and regulations as the highway commission may prescribe.

There are at present three crushers in operation, one at the Joliet penitentiary in the northern part of the state, and two at the southern penitentiary. The combined capacity of these crushers is 1350 cubic yards per eight hours.

With low freight rates and free material it is possible for those communities which do not have road materials to get the crushed rock from the penitentiaries at a very low cost, and yet one portion of the state is not taxed for the benefit of another. The question of a large state aid appropriation is met completely with this method of state cooperation.

The successful distribution of this free crushed stone has been made possible by the low freight rates granted by the railroads of the state. The law provides that the highway commission shall be empowered to arrange for special freight rates. There has now been secured from all the railroads in the state a rate as low as one-half cent per ton mile, and from some roads a rate of three mills per ton mile.

With the aid of the material thus prepared the commission has been able to construct experimental macadam roads in sections of the state where macadam roads had never before been used or built at a commission of little more than the expense of supervision. The commission also furnished the rollers and sprinklers, as few communities are at present provided with these necessities for proper stone road building. In every instance these roads have attracted much attention locally, and have well proved the value and importance of experimental work in road building.

In a number of counties 60 per cent of the amount spent for roads and bridges was for bridges, so this feature of highway work is one of particular importance in Illinois. Only a casual investigation was necessary to establish the fact that a majority of the bridges were about half the requisite strength and cost approximately twice what they should. The reason for this was lack of skilled supervision. The commissioners and supervisors have to expend the taxpayers' money for bridges about which they know nothing about the requisite strength, nothing about the proper cost. To correct these conditions, the highway commission offers free of charge to the local highway officials designs, estimates and specifications for demand for this aid indicates that it will be one of the most important phases of the work of the commission. Already plans and estimates for some fifty bridges are under way.

The widespread interest taken in the work of highway improvement, and particularly in connection with the state highway commissions, is shown by the fact that sixty-seven farmers' institutes requested the commission to furnish a speaker to discuss road improvement. In Illinois any plan of highway work which does not appeal to the common sense of the Farmers' Institute is doomed to failure.

The work of the Illinois Highway Commission is based on the belief that much better results can be obtained without increased taxation; that better methods are necessary for better results and that it is essential that the practical advantage of better methods first be demonstrated before considering the question of increased expenditures.

THAW TRIAL NEARING ITS SORDID END NOW

Short Session Today to Give Delmas Time to Prepare His Answer.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, March 13.—There was but a short session today in the court trying Harry K. Thaw for the murder of Stanford White, an adjournment being taken shortly after noon until tomorrow morning. This action was taken partly to give Delmas an opportunity to consult the authorities and prepare an argument in reply to the impassioned appeal by District Attorney Jerome for the admission of the testimony by Abraham Hummel in connection with Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's evidence, characterized by Jerome as the central support of the defense, and partly on the statement of Jerome if he were allowed this afternoon in which to complete hypothetical questions to be put to his experts; he thought the state could close its case in rebuttal by tomorrow night.

PRES. VAN HISE
ON EARTHQUAKES

AND PROF. H. S. DENSMORE ON MUTATION THEORY.

BEFORE THE TWILIGHT CLUB

Banqueters Wore the Colors of Beloit and U. of W. at "Science Night"

Session Last Evening.
Final meeting of the season—"Ladies' Night," April 10—Rev. R. M.
Vaughan, leader. Committee of arrangements for 1907—Rev. R. C.
Denison, George Sutherland, Judge C.
L. Field, T. S. Nolan, and Supt. H.
C. Buell. Committee to award school prizes; W. F. Bosworth, H. J. Cunningham, and F. S. Barnes.

Members of the Twilight club and several visitors, numbering in all about 30, enjoyed one of the most interesting programs of the season at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last evening. It was "Science Night" and such topics as the great convulsions of the earth, the phenomena of the field and forest, man's attempts to navigate the air, turbine engines, and electrical inventions, were discussed with the aid of charts, stereoscopic views, and exhibits. Two of the subjects were presented by such eminent scientists as President C. H. Van Hise of the University of Wisconsin and Prof. H. S. Densmore of Beloit College. F. A. Taylor was the leader, and at the conclusion of the repeated first bridge the gulf supposed to be yawning between Science and everyday life by quoting modern instances of men of meagre attainments who had acquired university degrees by patience and persistence in mentally solving the longitudinal vibration of a rubbed string, and then thanked the speakers who by dint of no little self-sacrifice and inconvenience had come from a distance to keep the Twilight Club in touch with the thought of the times.

In introducing President Van Hise, the leader, after calling attention to the fact that the great educator was born in Rock county, said that he had been trying to think of some appropriate quotation. The one about the Prodigal Son, which he was tempted to employ, hardly fitted in and he had decided to fall back on this one: "The mountains and the hills shall break forth in singing and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands."

Wisconsin had many great institutions and eminent men. None of its institutions was greater than its university and none of its men was more well thought of than its university president. President Van Hise thought that the club was fortunate in having a leader who could quote scripture. He had spoken at many places where, not a person present, he felt sure, could have quoted an appropriate verse, while the leader had quoted two.

Earthquakes.
President Van Hise's subject was "Earthquakes" and with the aid of the stereoscopic he took his listeners on a geological investigation which covered many quarters of the world.

Simply Swallow

Many Eat as Though They Were Blind and Their Tongues Cut Out.

Dyspepsia is built on confidence—too much confidence in the ability of your stomach to digest anything and everything you put into it.

In this age we have developed speed in every line of action, and we have also developed speed in mastication.
We don't take time to eat right, and sometimes we do not eat the right kind of food. Sometimes we carry our business to our meals and as a result eat mechanically. We eat as though we were blind and our tongues cut out. We simply swallow.
The result is that the food we eat is half chewed, and lies like a lump of lead on the stomach.

You may deny to yourself that you abuse your stomach, but when you get a bloaty feeling, you can't deny you've got it.

When you get brash, eructations, burning sensations, bloating, aversion to food, loss of appetite, belching and other kindred ailments, there is not much use asking yourself for the time being, why you suffer. The fact is there are these ailments and the question of the hour is how to get rid of them at once, so that at your next meal you may be able to sit down and look at your meal straight in the face —with a keen appetite and a smile, and enjoy everything you eat.

Just one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest an ordinary meal, without the help of the stomach. One ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food. The strongest stomach couldn't do the work any better than one of these wonderful little Tablets can do it.

Each tablet contains the strongest digestive agents it is possible to obtain.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not a patent medicine. We come out and say just what is in them—hydrastis, golden seal, lactose and aseptic pep-sin. They are recommended by 40, 000 licensed physicians in the United States and Canada.

And they are recommended by everyone who uses them—they can't help it, they immediately invigorate the stomach by letting it take a rest; they strengthen the gastric juice and cause the appetite to become keen and regular.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will surely destroy dyspepsia, brash, burning sensations, indigestion, loss of appetite, and aversion to food.
Have Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets handy where you can take one or two after each meal. Then you will know what a blessing it is to have a good appetite and to get all the good possible out of everything you eat. You'll feel rosy and sweet. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any drug store or earth, 50c.

that while the winds and waters might be in motion, the rocks were fixed and stable as was able to show that the surface of the earth was in reality being modified as rapidly at present as in past ages. Here it was rising, there falling. The basins of the Great Lakes were being filled.
Fossil forms found along the Rock river showed that once all this area had been below the sea. The remains of certain types of sea-life now in existence were to be found on the summits of the St. Elias range of mountains in Alaska, proving that this range had actually been produced during the present era in the world's life.

Besides the great vertical and upward movements, there are horizontal stresses by which the rocks far below, where the pressure is great, are bent and broken, while those nearer the surface are bent and broken.
Horizontal and vertical fractures visible in the quarries near Janesville testify to this. In the geological phraseology the displacement along such a fracture is called a fault.

At the moment of fracture and displacement a series of waves go off from the point of rupture, and the shock may be felt over a large surface of the world. Such an earthquake and the resultant waves constitute an earthquake. The great fault visible after the earthquake of 1891 in Japan first gave scientists their ideas of the causes. Pictures of the great 350-mile fault in California attendant upon the San Francisco quake and showing line-ences bent and twisted, peculiarities of this fault was that the chief displacement was horizontal rather than vertical.
Santa Rosa to the north and San Jose to the south, were on the line of displacement, while cities to the east did not suffer, and the fact that there was no sea-wave showed that the movement did not extend far westward under the ocean.

The great earthquakes actually shake the whole earth and the movements are recorded by seismographs in all parts of the world. The speaker said that the rupture in California was along an old fault and that it was quite likely that a similar movement, though perhaps not so marked, would occur again. Time forbade any discussion of the inter-relation of these movements in various parts of the world and their relation to volcanoes. If he had made it apparent that the world is alive; that the study of geology is a study of the living force; that the world in the hands of God is even now being moulded to His will, the speaker would have accomplished all he had hoped.

Evolution by Mutation

Prof. H. S. Densmore of Beloit College discussed "Evolution by Mutation in Theory and Practice," and instead of the formidable considerations which the title seemed to promise, his lecture proved to be a delightful study of new plant forms evolved by Luther Burbank and discovered in nature by Prof. Hugo De Vries of the University of Amsterdam, the opposing methods and theories of the two men, and the whole beautifully illustrated on the screen with views which the speaker secured during his studies at the University of California where he made the acquaintance of DeVries last summer.

Prof. Densmore's estimate of Burbank was not the common estimate.
He regarded him as a "wizard" only in plants and combining them by skill in recognizing and selecting qualities of high commercial value in points and combining them by methods well known to breeders. He had never produced anything really new. The Shasta daisy had been evolved by combining the common wild daisy with its prolific attribute, the European daisy with its hardy quality, and the French daisy with its lustrous appearance. The result was a flower which possessed all of these good qualities. Similar methods were adopted in producing the stoneless prune and the spineless cactus. The difficulty with these new forms, as far as permanency was concerned, was that they were not certain to persist once selection had ceased.
Indeed their tendency was to revert to the original types, or at least to lose their valuable acquired qualities.

If the Darwinian theory of the origin of species by selection in Nature is to be sustained, the new forms arising, must be permanent. Dr. DeVries, proceeding along the same lines of original investigation, has arrived at a working hypothesis quite different.
He believes that new forms, instead of being built up gradually, rise suddenly and remain stable, that is to say do not revert to the old forms.
The giant red-wood of the Pacific coast which once occupied a great area, has not accommodated itself to environment, nor changed its form.
It has been driven to a few corners of the world and there remains unchanged. No changes are observable in fifty species of plants which have been transplanted to this country from Europe. There is nothing to show that the navel orange was gradually evolved from a seed orange. In its first form it was brought to Washington from the banks of the Amazon and so far as we know, arose suddenly. Experimenting many years with Lamarck's evening primrose, DeVries has observed the sudden appearance of dwarf and giant varieties and other attributes from the parent stock and these new forms and their characteristics have remained constant.

The hypothesis and the discoveries which seem to support it have their practical bearings. If the agriculturalist, the horticulturist, or the breeder is to get new stock according to the old ideas, he must laboriously build it up with the prospect that the moment he ceases this selective work the type will revert to the old forms. If the DeVries theory is correct, the wiser method is carefully observe and secure for re-production the new forms which have arisen suddenly. The method has been adopted by the Swedish agricultural station.
Up to 1895 the effort had been to build up a grain that would thrive in this country. Close examination revealed many new forms in the grain field and by isolating the kinds which appeared to have adapted themselves to sandy, wet, and rocky soil, the desired types were secured. The ordinary kind of grain is a mixture of individual plants possessing good and bad qualities. Ten new species in such a field will, through cross fertilization, produce a new type.

CHOSEN HONDURAS
AS BUSINESS FIELD

Former Wisconsin Resident Has Spent Seventeen Years in Central American Republic.

John E. Wood, who came here to attend the funeral of his uncle, the late Allen J. Ingersoll, is one of those astute American business men who have seen opportunities in undeveloped portions of the western hemisphere and in grasping these have been able to succeed. Mr. Wood is a grandson of the late Elijah Wood of the town of Center, Rock county, and he himself was born in Sparta, Wis., in 1861. The years between '69 and '90 were spent in Chicago, where he became a salesman in a wholesale jewelry house. In the latter eighties some Chicago people secured a concession from the government of Honduras and on this they wove a colony scheme. Mr. Wood became interested and went with a party to the central American republic. But the fabric of this settlement plan was shoddy and failure crowned the expedition. Mr. Wood remained on Honduras, having learned to speak good Spanish and Indian to carry on trade with the inhabitants of the country.
Ever since he has been engaged in such a line of business, exchanging manufactured goods from the United States for the crude products of the country—raw rubber, flint dry hides, and deer skins.

In 1898 Mr. Wood, acting for Cleveland people, secured a valuable concession from the Honduran government. It was the permit to open the Patuca river, the eastern waterway of the country. In return for dredging out the sand bar at the mouth, building a custom house and a wharf
Mr. Wood was to receive all wharfage fees, have the exclusive right to operate a transportation line on the stream and be given 100,000 hectares of rubber land. The concession contains 2.47 acres, besides this he or his company could have free use of telegraph or telephone lines which they might build for the government. Nothing was over done with this concession, but Mr. Wood hopes at some time to carry the project to completion.

Such improvements will never be made by the natives for nature has been too kind; she has made it possible for them to live without an effort and they prefer existing happily by the aid of cigarettes and native rum to living luxuriously through riches that are waiting to be taken.
Big profits can be made in planting rubber and in cattle for the country is an ideal grazing ground, having plenty of shade and water and being free from conditions that result in cattle disease.

Mr. Wood holds to the belief that his business interests are benefited by his abstinance from politics and so does not mingle in the internal strifes of the land or the boundary squabbles with Nicaragua. However he is personally acquainted with Fillesco, Devila, and Castro, who have been mentioned recently as leaders of an embryo revolutionary movement and is a close friend of Policarpo Bonilla, an ex-president and cousin of the present executive General Bonilla.
Mr. Wood numbers another ex-president among his acquaintances, General Sierra who but recently retired from the chief magistracy.

Since his residence in Honduras Mr.
Wood has made six trips to the states.
His brother Wayland W., who went with him on the initial trip remained through sixteen years, coming home the first of the present year. On January 21 he saw the first snow that he had seen since leaving Chicago in 1890.

ANTLERS AWARDED
FIVE MORE MEMBERS

Five More Candidates Initiated Into Elkdom by the Janesville Lodge
Last Evening.

Five more members were added to the roll of the Janesville lodge of the Elks last evening at their regular meeting. A report of the club room committee was also heard and the work of remodeling the Myers Theatre block will begin immediately. The punchy will probably be ready for use before the first of June. It is now stated that when all the alterations have been made and the rooms properly furnished the expense will be in the neighborhood of five thousand dollars, making the rooms the most complete in the state. A committee consisting of Chas. Putnam, John Sweeney, and George McKee will attend to the furnishing of the rooms.
The candidates admitted last evening were: Dr. J. R. Whiffen, William Rugger, Jr., R. D. Fleck, H. A. Ford, and W. W. Watt. A social session completed the evening's meeting.

BENEFIT AT RINK A FINANCIAL SUCCESS

Nearly Three Hundred Dollars Was Netted by the Retail Clerks' Association for Louis Hemmens.

One of the most successful benefit parties ever given in Janesville was held last evening at the West Side rink under the auspices of the Retail Clerks' Association for a benefit to Louis Hemmens, one of their members. The sum of $300 was netted.
The costumes of the skaters were varied and picturesque. Clowns, policemen, Harry Hooligans, dainty Spanish maiden, Indian girls, skated to the tune of music of the orchestra and the gallery of spectators was exceptionally large.

LAONI BAND ENJOYS ITS REGULAR SUPPER MEETING

Congregational Church Society of Young Ladies Met Last Evening.

Last evening the regular supper meeting of the Laoni Band of the congregational church enjoyed a sumptuous spread and then listened to interesting talks on "Fiji." Miss Alice Whiffen was the leader for the evening and the discussion was most interesting. Mrs. Fred Sutherland and Miss Josephine Fansworth were the hostesses of the evening.

WASHINGTON TALK
BRIEFLY RELATED

INCIDENT OF AMBASSADOR AND LADY AT A BALL.

DR. WILEY SPOKE OF AGAIN

Few Mourn Defeat of Ship Subsidy Measure in the Senate—Would Have Meant Bigger Trust.

(Special Correspondence.)
Washington, D. C., March 12.—While at the house of a minister from an ancient and one time powerful nation several nights ago, I heard a story about a recent episode at the White House, which is of interest. Of course names will not be mentioned but as there is no injunction of secrecy, the facts can be given. The minister in question has been in the diplomatic service of his country for a number of years and has from time to time received from his sovereign jeweled orders of great value. When he arrived in full panoply his breast was covered with glittering gems.
At a White House reception, so the story goes, the minister found himself in close proximity to a lady and soon afterward missed two of his be-jeweled orders. He was at a loss to know how to proceed but finally mustered up courage enough to approach the lady and say that he feared some of his orders had become entangled in her gown. She reached into the face of her dress and produced one of them with the remark that it was very strange how it had become entangled therein. The minister thanked her profusely but as she did not offer to produce the other and he did not like to charge her with having it, he did not mention that he had noted its absence also. He did, however, see that the secret service men were notified and the next morning the missing order was returned without any explanation. He keeps his jewels in a safe deposit vault and is very careful when he wears them to see that they are firmly fastened to a gold-embroidered coat.

Speaking of ministerial coats, few people have any idea of how expensive these diplomatic uniforms are. Every country of importance, except the United States, prescribes a diplomatic dress for its ambassadors, ministers and attaches. The embroidery on such coats is strictly regulated, and differs with the rank of the party wearing it. My tailor was showing me one which he was making for an ambassador. The coat was first made of the finest broadcloth, lined with the most beautiful white satin. After having been properly fitted the lining was removed and the coat was sent to New York to be embroidered in gold thread.
The embroidery alone cost more than a thousand dollars. Another diplomat has a coat which cost $2,500 and there may be even more expensive uniforms.
As these uniforms are seldom worn except at the White House or at the embassies, it seems like a pretty high price to pay. Some people imagine that a ministerial coat is a noble sight when arrayed in his uniform but the gold lace on a military coat is a small matter compared with the gold embroidery on that of a diplomat.

The wife of one of the most prominent men in the banking business in this city is telling a story at her own expense. Recently she had occasion to visit a leading department store for the purpose of purchasing some trinkets for her servant. The proprietor escorted her about the store and finally suggested that she might buy some imitation jewelry of which they had a large collection. Mrs.
Banker was soon inspecting real diamond, ruby, sapphire and other jewels at prices ranging from $1 up. "There is nothing here that suits," she said.
"Anyone can see at a glance that these are imitation." While she was continuing to examine the stock and chat with the proprietor, the latter quietly detached from his shirt a stud worth about $800 and dropped it in the tray.
"Well I think some of these are real good imitations," he said. Picking up the stud he continued: "How about this one for 98 cents?" The lady examined it carefully and then said:
"No, it is like all the others; you can see at a glance that it is an imitation." "Is that so?" replied the merchant, calmly replacing the stud in his shirt. Mrs. Banker swears that if she had accepted his proposition and bought the stud for 98 cents she would have kept it.

Interests concerned with pure food continue to cause trouble, as far as lies within their power, for the department of agriculture and especially the bureau of chemistry and is distinguished head, Dr. H. W. Wiley, it seems somewhat remarkable that food manufacturers do not all agree on all the propositions advanced by this bureau. So closely has the bureau been connected with pure food agitation that to the minds of most people a criticism passed upon Dr. Wiley or the bureau is construed into opposition to pure food laws and regulations. In times past the honey producers, the blended whiskey interests and others have harshly criticised the bureau of chemistry, but their criticisms were gentle zepher compared with a recent attack upon the bureau in the Northwestern Miller of Minneapolis.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Discriminateness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms; for its quick effect in cleaning the scalp of dandruff and also for its efficacy as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp fresh and it always keeps itching which dandruff will cause.
Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops falling hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold

JANESVILLE BOY IS HONORED AT MEETING

F. L. McNamara Is Vice President of the District Attorneys' Association.

Frank L. McNamara, son of H. L.
McNamara of this city, was yesterday elected vice-president of the District Attorneys' association. The meeting was held in Milwaukee. Mr. McNamara, who is district attorney of Sawyer county, discussed the different phases of the famous Dietz case. The meeting was well attended and held in conjunction with the state bar association's meeting.

Explanation of Dietz Case.
In his discussion of the Dietz case,
District Attorney F. L. McNamara, Sawyer county, took a shy at the "yellow journals" whose sensational reports, he said, have created a false popular sentiment in favor of the "king of the Thymapple river." He said that these papers have accepted John Dietz's statements, with avidity and have concealed and distorted the real issue. Mr. McNamara said that the popular sentiment that the Dietz affair is a fight between a poor man defending his home against a rich lumber company is maliciously false.
Since the beginning of the trouble, in May, 1904, the case has passed beyond the original difficulty with the lumber company and now concerns the authority of the state to try Dietz on the criminal charge of attempt to commit murder.

The speaker traced the history of the case from the time of the original restraining order and the unsuccessful attempt to make service upon Dietz, to the alleged murderous assault upon the sheriff's posse. In which, some of the deputies were injured. He said the criminal warrant which followed this assault has never been served upon Dietz.

Dietz Is Resisting Law.
John Dietz brags through the yellow journals of his accomplishments. He lives ten miles from the nearest station. His house is situated upon a knoll from which he can scan the country for miles. The country is wild and covered with timber. The house is a veritable arsenal. It is almost impossible with the resources at hand to serve the warrant upon Dietz. He knows the paths and shortcuts of the country and has every advantage.
Mr. McNamara designated a man who resists the proper enforcement of the law as an anarchist, and he said that the authority of the state must be upheld. He said that Sawyer county is dependent upon its own resources in serving the warrant as the governor has refused to send the militia to the county.

Argentina Undeveloped.
The cultivated area of land in Argentina is 60,000,000 acres, which is only about one-tenth of the land fit for cultivation. In addition there are over 245,000,000 acres which can so far be utilized only for stock breeding, and more than 222,000,000 under forests and in mountains containing immense wealth in timber and minerals.

MRS. W. T. BURNS

Mrs. W. T. Burns, of Memphis, Tenn., who is national press correspondent of the W. R. C., writes: "I caught a severe cold which it seemed impossible for me to get rid of. I became much run-down, lost my appetite and flesh and felt nervous and irritable. Vinol was recommended, and certainly worked wonders for me; it increased my appetite, and cured my cough and nervousness. I consider Vinol a wonderful remedy."
A member of the Smith Drug Co., says: "Many people right here in Janesville are in just her condition—all run-down, hardly able to drag about, don't know what ails them.
This is probably caused by a cold or cough which is hard to cure, overwork or too close confinement to business, and such people need Vinol." Vinol is not a patent medicine, but contains the medicinal curative elements found in fresh cod livers, with all the useless and eliminated and toxic iron added.

We ask every run-down, nervous, debilitated, aged or weak person in Fall River, and every person suffering from stubborn colds, hanging-on coughs, bronchitis or incipient consumption to try Vinol on our guarantee. It costs nothing if it fails to give satisfaction. Smith Drug Co.
NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Janesville, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country.

Janeville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, March 13, 1867.—The weather. The most disagreeable day of the season today. Thermometer 2 degrees below zero this morning.

Another Census.—The firemen are to have another census, we understand, on Saturday evening, to put an opposition ticket in the field for engineers of the department. We hope they will nominate their best men and then take the chances on both for the election.

A Most Desirable Invention.—A singularly useful invention is now on exhibition at the Myers House, by Mr. F. Lamborn, the agent, which is nothing less than a dishwasher. We have seen it in operation and it has the appearance of a very effective machine, and we are sure it is one, the advent of which will be hailed with delight.

By all womankind. The machine which we saw hold four dozen dishes, which it is claimed can be washed, drained and dried in ten minutes. Mr. L. has state and county rights for sale.

The Festival of No. 2.—The preparations for the Festival of Engine Co. No. 2, which takes place Friday night, are in a gratifying state of forwardness. Whatever can be done to ensure its success is receiving the attention of the committee of arrangements. So far as the supper on the occasion is concerned, it is sufficient to say of it that it will be gotten up under the supervision of Mrs. Meyers, than whom no one understands how to do a thing of this kind better. Those who participate in the festival may expect with great good reason, an evening of much enjoyment as such entertainments can bring.

Authoritative Styles For Spring

Fresh From the New York Market. THE NEW SUITS are here—the first showings from personal selections made during a recent two weeks' visit to the eastern market. This season marks no radical change in style, but rather a change in materials, the favorites being soft-toned stripes and checks in light shades of champagne, tan, mode, grey, etc. Both Eton and Pony Coats are shown with the Eton in first place. The present showing consists of about fifty suits, with a hundred more to come. In fact every express brings a few.

THE NEW "WORTH SKIRTS" are here of novelty fabrics, also black and colors in panama, batiste, serge and similar materials. Have skirts for large women with bands up to 38 inch, also skirts for girls 35 to 37 inch lengths. New waists also are on display.

LONG KID GLOVES—Have all sizes in stock of both 12 and 16 button length kid gloves in black, brown, tan, white, navy, green—12 button, $3.00; 16 button, $3.50.

Oriental RUGS..

We have with us Mooradian Bros., who will be with us several days with their entire stocks of Oriental Rugs. These people are the direct importers from Persia and Turkey. They do not buy from jobbers and are only importers on the road.

The rugs are very beautiful. The marvelous colors, the magnificent designs and the artistic workmanship will certainly please the people who love Oriental Rugs.

They have in their stock the following

Kermanshas Sarapis
Sarukhs Backshishs
Tabrizs Gorovans
Masheds Faragans
Korasans Irans
Kirmans Kivas
Shirazs

and many other different kinds. There is the biggest selection that has ever been shown in Janesville.

The Prices Are Extremely Low

This is by far the largest and choicest line of Oriental Rugs ever displayed in Janesville. More than $20,000 worth.

You are cordially invited to inspect these beautiful rugs whether you wish to buy or not.

They also have a native expert repairer and cleaner of Oriental rugs, which business he knows from A to Z.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST
Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday, cooler tonight.

MODERN GERMANY

The Deutsche Bank of Berlin in its annual report on the present condition of the money market finds the cause of the prolonged stringency in the high degree of prosperity, especially of the United States and Germany, says an authority on the American money market. It sees in the cash requirements of new enterprises the explanation of the comparative scarcity in the supply of capital available for expansion.

This grouping of Germany and the United States, from the monetary standpoint, may be extended to almost the entire field of economic activity. Different as their conditions and resources are, they are in many respects alike. Both of them have been originators of enterprises at home and abroad, covering very much the same period of economic history. Each has shown an appreciation of the other's contribution to material progress, a progress which is not matched by any other two nations among the great industrial group which fronts on the North Atlantic. Germany's technical achievements have been appreciated by American observers, just as America's mechanical and commercial attainments have been appreciated by Germany.

There has furthermore been a much more general interchange of thought between the intelligent elements of the two nations than in any other case. In their evolution the two nations have each come to their present economic estate by the subordination of politics to material progress. Just as Germany during the sixties passed out of an agricultural into an industrial state, so the United States, in a parallel period, changed its character from a rural to an industrial nation. Starting thus almost simultaneously on their new career, Germany and the United States are today the foremost rivals of the greatest commercial nation of any age in their competition with Great Britain.

In this trinity of industrial states we have the British commercial instinct, the German technical training, and the American energy of initiative, each working along the same and yet different lines in the effort to build within its own territory that type of well being which emphasizes the higher rather than the lower aims of men. Their rivalry is that of ministering to their surplus means to the rest of the world in exchange for what other people can give them.

In this intercourse there is, in spite of the appearance of conflict, still greater potencies of co-operation, in the ends for which nations are organized and the interest which they serve in common. The Memoirs of Prince Hohenlohe, for instance, show through what tribulations Germany has come to her present position. Through a long and rather tedious story of two volumes one traces the spirit of the oldest Germanic people struggling toward its own ideals of economic unity under imperial leadership, yet always drawing inspiration and encouragement from its study of the British and the American nations whose histories have powerfully marked the older rock from which both were hewn.

THE CRUISER AS AN EDITOR

Germany is sending her cruiser Panther to Hayti to expunge "an offensive phrase" from a communication which has been received from the latter country, involving the accounts of a German banking house with the Haytian government.

Germany's navy has played a most assiduous role as a debt collector, but never, so far as our records go, have her cruisers been used for editorial purposes.

By the way, why should the stronger man in an international trade dispute, always feel impelled to bring his own gun with him, especially when he knows that the other fellow does not even have one to bring?

The office of aldermen is an important one and care should be taken in the selection of the standard-bearers in the different wards. Men who stand for the best interests of Janesville should be selected, men who have been active in public doings and who buy their goods in Janesville, thus keeping their money at home. The question of selection of an alderman is one which should meet the careful consideration of the thinking taxpayers of the ward they seek to represent. The best man should be chosen and when nominated supported at the election.

The little ballot cast for the right man on primary day and again on election day will do more to reform a city than all the reform leagues ever organized. The voters are the people to get after and have them reform themselves without knowing it by their ballot. Place good men in nomination and the work is done without the bluster of "reform."

The stand taken by the President in the railway question has made the railways sit up and notice things, but whether it will be far-reaching enough to remedy the existing evils is a question. The railroads have some rights even if the reformers do not allow this to be a fact.

So Mr. Fish is again in the line of promotion for a Presidency of a transcontinental railroad. It may be a possibility that he and Mr. Harriman will cross horns again in the fight for the railroad supremacy of the country.

While Roosevelt's son lay at the point of death the entire country waited with bated breath for news from the sick room. There has never been a president who nearer approached royalty in the devotion of the people than have the Roosevelts.

This morning's papers would lead the reader to believe that Stephenson had made a deal with Lenroot to take the remainder of the term of Spooner with the aid of the Superior statesman and in return aid him to secure the long term two years from now.

The Mayorality fight continues to absorb the attention of the others. Every citizen has a vote on this important question and they should exercise their rights of franchise next Tuesday by casting their ballot for the man they consider best fitted for the office.

Milwaukee's Boy Mayor does not appear to have been the success that he was cracked up to be. Sherbig is much talked of, but more often than not, he is the subject of a joke rather than any exhibition of rare judgment.

Madison is in the center of state political activity and now to turn the attention of the citizens from state politics they have a pretty local government fight on.

Janesville as an automobile city is fast coming into prominence. No longer do the horses shy at the "choo choo" wagons, but pass them quietly as though they were standing still.

With the primaries less than a week off the spring political fight is taking an interesting development and real interest is being shown.

Have the Goulds allied themselves to the Morgans or is this talk of royal alliances merely a bluff?

Hughes' Anti-Tight bill was saved from death yesterday, but its end is only delayed.

The conditions of Janesville will be just what the voters want them.

Up at Madison the Insurance companies are having their innings.

It looks now as though the Madison interurban would be built.

PRESS COMMENT.

The Big Noise
Chicago Tribune: Mr. La Follette feels quite capable of doing all the senatorial talking for Wisconsin, anyway.

Amusing Rather Than Distressing.
St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Both Honduras and Nicaragua are putting up a game fight. It will undoubtedly be the best bantam contest of the season.

Even That Grows Stale
Milwaukee Sentinel: As a new device for our city seal the Cleveland Leader suggests a schooner crossing a bar. Pretty good, too. But, man, in common gratitude, let up on our beer.

Made to Fit
Milwaukee News: It appears that as Uncle Ike has found that there is room in his satchel for one more gold brick, Mr. La Follette thinks that he has one that will fit nicely.

Annoying, But Merely a Delusion.
Washington Times: Of course, the Christian Science leaders realize that all this trouble they read about in the newspapers is only a cruel, unfortunate "belief," and, like matter, has no real existence.

Mule Training for Husbands.
Exchange: Carrie Chapman Catt, the female suffragist, believes a woman should train her husband as one trains a mule. Mrs. Catt is right. Never make up on him from behind.

Another Guess
Watertown Leader: The name of Isaac Stephenson of Marinette has been mentioned as a successor to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Spooner. If the Leader does not miss its guess, "Uncle Ike" will be the choice.

Another Trust Needs Curbing
Oshkosh Northwestern: The retail prices of lumber have taken another big jump during the past week or two. Looks as if the government cannot commence that investigation of the lumber trust any too soon.

Something to Be Explained
Detroit Free Press: Gayboy—No, dear, you are mistaken about my having had too much to drink last night. Mrs. Gayboy—Then, for mercy sakes, why did you take off your shoes to go upstairs after I had gone down and let you in myself?

Waupaca Opinion
Waupaca Republican: Who will be his successor for the next two years? Time is short for sentiment to crystallize on the many good men in the state republican ranks and as that pioneer republican and former congressman from Wisconsin, Hon. Isaac Stephenson, is a candidate and says he only asks for the office for the two years it would seem that he is the man for the position.

Divorce Luncheons the Latest El Paso Herald: Divorce luncheons are the latest fad in St. Louis society circles. A decree of divorce is a great rejuvenator for women who have been freed from the shackles of the matrimonial yoke. They discuss things and try the case over and tell their sensations when certain questions were asked and the fair divorcees grow more confidential as the feast proceeds.

Men There Are, But—
Whitewater Register: They are having a lively time at Madison looking for a successor to Senator Spooner. Some of the names mentioned are absolutely absurd; and of those that measure up to senatorial stature, the count could be made on less than half a hand. Some of the best possibilities in the state have not been named at all. Why not think of such big, brainy men as John M. Whitehead, Emil Baensch, Pliny Norcross, General Winder, Charles Quarles or L. D. Harvey? There are men who would make senators to confer honor on the state and do manly service for the nation. But—

The Forest Reserve Order
New York Tribune: In adding 17,000,000 acres of forest land to the reserves already established President Roosevelt has shown his usual strength of conviction and conscientious devotion to the public interest. Using an authority which congress was about to abridge, he preserved from encroachment and alienation a section of the public domain destined to develop an enormous economic value in the near future. This prompt and courageous action blocks the schemes of those who are seeking to divert to private ownership as large a share as possible of the government's timber, coal and other mineral lands, with a view to stimulating local progress. This policy, which is defended by a group of legislators from the Rocky Mountain states, is one of heedless opportunism, since it involves an exchange of a vast future inheritance for a temporary mess of pottage. It mortgages the welfare of many generations to come to the appetite of the present generation, and so conflicts with the aims of enlightened statesmanship.

The association expects to be in session several days discussing rates, mail order competition and various other matters relating to the trade.

Sutton and Schaffer on Tour
Kansas City, Mo., March 12.—George Sutton and Jake Schaefer, who contested for the 181 billiard championship in Chicago Monday night, have arrived in Kansas City and will tonight begin a series of exhibition games. Tomorrow night they will play in Omaha, on Friday night in Muskogee and Saturday night in Oklahoma City.

American Rose Society
Washington, D. C., March 12.—The National Rifles' Hall has been converted into a floral bower with countless roses, azaleas, orchids, hyacinths, tulips, narcissus, violets, palms, geraniums and other popular flowers. The occasion of the display is the flower show held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Rose society. The meeting opened today and will continue through the rest of the week. Professional and amateur growers from all parts of the country are in attendance.

Oriental Rugs

All the way from Asia Minor, the land of the artistic weavers of the richest and the most beautiful of Oriental Rugs, has come some rare specimens of the great Armenian craft to us.

The races of Asia Minor are recognized the world over as foremost in the production of Rugs.

Their color schemes are superb. Their blendings are perfect. Their designs are beautiful beyond compare.

All the charm and mastery of the Orient seems embodied in these Rugs—their soft, low-toned colors—here and there breaking into brilliancy by some touch of brightness, is very suggestive of the mystic eastern arts.

The collection exhibited at this store is representative of the best endeavors of the most skillful of the Tarsus Rug makers. There are a wide range of sizes—from those large enough to carpet a good size room to the small ones so fashionable for table covers.

As these came directly from the Orient, this wonderful collection offers rare opportunities to Rug buyers; it is entirely at your disposal—to view or to choose from. Your inspection is cordially invited.

NEW METHODS POPULAR.

In the past few years there has been a wonderful change throughout the country in the handling of milk for family consumption. It was only a few years ago when all of the milk for city and village use was delivered in bulk, but now a great deal is delivered in pint and quart bottles.

Pasteurized milk delivered in bottles and carefully sealed with pulp caps is more appetizing than when it is measured out by the milk man and put in some open dish of the consumer. The sterilized bottles can be set most any place where it is cool, provided the cap is kept on, and there is no reason for removing it until the consumer is ready to use the milk. With the open pan it is different; the place where it is set must be clean and cool and protected from dust which is not always easy to do. The pasteurized bottled milk can be kept in the refrigerator with vegetables, but milk kept in pans or crocks will take up the flavors of the surrounding atmosphere, and very often make it more or less unpalatable.

Pasteurization eliminates also all possible contagion and germ matter. Telephone your order or stop one of the five wagons.

MILTON JUNCTION CAPTURED HONORS

Took First and Third Place in Rock River Valley Declamatory League Contest.

In Broughton's hall at Broadhead last evening was held the annual contest of the Rock River Valley Declamatory League, composed of the high schools of Broadhead, Milton, Milton Junction, Edgerton and Stoughton. Each school had two contestants and high honors were captured by the representatives of Milton Junction. Miss Nan Winch of that place took first and Miss Laura Stone of the same town was awarded third. Roger Skinner of Broadhead was given second. The banner which was last year held by Milton was awarded to the Junction. The other competitors were: Chester Miller, Clara Gaulki, Stoughton; Dora Ellington, Jessica North, Edgerton; Alice Campion, Nannie Brown, Milton; Zell Skinner, Broadhead; F. E. Doty and R. L. Lyman, both of Madison, and O. J. Schuster of Plattville acted as judges. Music was furnished by the Broadhead high school orchestra, the Broadhead seventh grade pupils and a violin solo was given by Rockwell Barnes. The speakers from the different schools were all accompanied by good sized delegations of rooters, all of whom passed through Janesville last evening and again this morning, both times making a lively racket at the St. Paul passenger depot. A few from Monroe, Albany and Orfordville were also present.

The Clinton post comes at seven on the C. & M. & St. P. The Evansville post gets here at seven-twenty, and many comrades will drive in. The old songs will be sung by all led by Dan Bennett, who will also sing "The Old Brigade" and "Old Shady." Every soldier and sailor from the Revolution down to date is invited to attend, as well as the ladies.

MOTION IS MADE TO HAVE ANOTHER TRIAL

Jury Comes in With Answers to Questions in Taylor Versus St. Paul Railroad.

While the jury found that the plaintiff in the action of Maud M. Taylor, executrix of the late Joseph Green, versus the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul road, might recover damages to the extent of $1000 by answering another question relative to negligence on the part of Mr. Green at the time of the accident which caused his death, which practically annulled the former clause, Ruler & Ruler representing the plaintiff made a motion for the setting aside of the verdict of the jury and for a new trial, but the question did not come up for argument this afternoon. Today the suit of H. B. Tate against the same railroad for five thousand dollars damages is being tried.

MORTUARY NEWS.

Mrs. Oscar J. Jensen, Edgerton, Wis., March 13.—After lying in a critical condition for a week, Mrs. Oscar J. Jensen passed away at her home here at half-past ten o'clock this morning. The deceased, whose maiden name was Henrietta Whitte, was a daughter of Mrs. Louisa Whitte of this city and was twenty-nine years of age. She was married a year and a half ago and was one of the most popular young women in the city. She is survived by a husband, mother, two brothers, Lawrence C. Whitte and James C. Whitte; and two sisters, Mrs. E. S. Lord and Mrs. Clauden S. Farman, all of Edgerton. Notice of the funeral will be given later.

Emory Patch

Funeral services over the remains of the late Emory Patch will be held from the home, 255 Glen street, Thursday afternoon at half-past two o'clock. Rev. R. M. Vaughan will be officiating clergyman and burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery.

Miss Nellie Hogan

Solemn high mass was celebrated at the funeral services of Miss Nellie Hogan, held at St. Patrick's church at half-past nine o'clock this morning. Rev. Fr. Lillis of Sparta officiated and was assisted by Dean E. McGinley and Rev. J. J. McGinley. The pallbearers were D. W. Hayes, Thomas Birmingham, John Heffernan, John Drew, Joseph Denning and Ed Gillespie. A burial was in Mount Olivet.

Charles Edwin Estes

The mortal remains of the late Charles Edwin Estes were tenderly laid at rest in Oak Hill cemetery this morning. Marshall P. Richardson of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, conducted funeral services at the grave and the pallbearers were Elijah Carter, John G. Hayner, Laban Fisher and Ed Edwards.

Harry Brown

The funeral of the late Harry Brown of Casper, Wyoming, will be held from St. Patrick's church at half-past nine o'clock Friday morning and interment will be in Mount Olivet.

GREATEST DRAMATIC OFFERING OF YEAR

Madame Bertha Kalich and Her Company Seen in Splendid Production of "Kreutzer Sonata."

In a frightful climax which fairly stunned the onlookers, the terrible drama of "The Kreutzer Sonata" ended its soul-searching message at the Myers theatre last evening. Treating of the baser passions with brutal frankness, it is nevertheless a trenchant social study of what may and does happen when a family of Russian Jews, accustomed to the patriarchal mode of living from time immemorial, emigrates to a new land where greater freedom and looser customs prevail and temptations beset them on every side. The reaction against parental authority constitutes absolute disregard for gray hairs and principles of life are abandoned; liberty becomes license; the children and perhaps the wife turn against the father, and if he be a strong man, a tragedy is the inevitable end.

The play which Jacob Gordin wrote for Madame Kalich when she was playing in the Yiddish theatre in the New York Bowery five years ago sets forth this problem with various contributory elements which make the denouement more than the mere destruction of a home, or a saddened, broken-spirited old man. The leading character, Miriam, has been betrayed by a Russian aristocrat who is prevented by his traditions of caste from marrying her, and takes his life in the order to maintain what he believes to be a semblance of respectability. The father, by his betrothal of a musician to marry her. After the scene has changed from Russia to New York, whither the father has moved his family in the hope of living down and forgetting the shame which the eldest daughter has brought upon it, the infamous "Gregor" prospers, grows arrogant, in his prosperity, abuses the wife and the child, and eventually makes love to her sister. The new liberty has transformed the latter into a cruel and shameless woman. Discovering how matters stand between her husband and the sister, and receiving only taunts as she confronts them with the evidence, Miriam is driven to madness in the last act and kills them both, in a scene of the intensity of which almost baffles description.

No actress possesses of the emotional powers of Madame Kalich. It has been seen on the local stage within the past four years. Stately, gifted with a pallid, distinguished beauty; possessed of a voice that in its lower register is full and resonant to a remarkable degree; mistress of telling pantomime, facial play and gesture; endowed with a fine understanding of values which permits her never to over-elaborate, she sways her audience at will. Witness the terrible blending of appeal and menace in her tones as she warns Cecile: "Do not laugh!" in the final act. So powerful and true is her art that one must readily accept the claims of her friends that she will soon be recognized as one of the greatest actresses in this or any other country.

Theodore Roberts, last seen here in the name part of "The County Chairman" on Feb. 16, 1905, plays the part of the sorrow-laden father, Raphael Friedlander, with rare dignity and understanding, and George S. Spencer brings to the role of "Gregor" the same fine artistic ability which distinguished him in the part of "Charles Stewart," the novelist in "Told in the Hills," presented here by Edwin Arden and his company last October. Claus Bogel, as the union man and later the director of a conservatory of his own with a vast score for "the common people," furnishes much of the comedy relief and is ably seconded by George Christie as the impudent "Samuel," Adele Block as the heartless "Celina," Josephine Victor as the wife of the ex-union man, Josephine Shepherd as the vain and foolish old wife of Friedlander, Gladys Huette as the child—in fact the entire support—are splendid.

Harmonia Club Will Play Y. M. C. A. Here Tomorrow Evening—Close Score Expected.

Basketball teams representing the Harmonia Club of Jefferson and the Janesville Y. M. C. A. will meet at the gymnasium of the latter organization tomorrow evening. The game will be a return of the contest which was played at Jefferson several weeks ago and in which the Harmonians were victorious. Being on their home floor this time the local boys expect to fare better and a close game is assured. Preliminary to this match the Cardinals and Crescents, five picked from among the younger seniors and intermediates of the association, will play. The game begins at eight o'clock.

Giving Way of Scaffold Dropped O. L. Gallup and Harry Summers Down. Twenty-five Feet.

By the giving away of a scaffold, O. L. Gallup, son of J. P. Gallup of Vernon street, and Harry Summers of 216 Milton avenue were injured at Algonquin, Ill., last Friday and the former is in a hospital at Algonquin while the latter was brought home Monday evening. Gallup sustained a serious fracture of one foot, bad bruises and cuts about the neck, a severe scalp wound and was stricken with paralysis from the hips down. The attending physician sent word here this morning that he believed the young man would in time regain full use of his limbs. Mr. Summers suffered a sprain of one ankle and slight cuts and bruises. Both young men were working on a building, the contract for which is held by Mr. Summers and his father.

Should be Encouraged.
Editor Gazette: The willingness of Mr. Harry Brown to become a member of our common council should be encouraged by every patriotic citizen. We rarely have an opportunity to elect a man of his ripe business experience to a seat in our city legislature. Could we elect more of them it would be less difficult to get good men to run for the office. There has come to be an odium attached to the title alderman and the election of more men of good judgment and good standing is needed to make the office a pleasant and a popular one. We work ourselves into a white heat over the election of a president, when to us, personally, the election of other candidates would make not a particle of difference, while the election of an alderman is neglected when it is often a matter of dollars and cents to us to have a good man in the office.

Two Crops Per Year Corn Eight Feet Tall

IN THE Texas Gulf Coast Country

Two corn crops are raised each year in this wonderful land and the richest, biggest, finest ears of corn you ever saw. The farmers of that section market from 40 to 70 bushels per acre with very little irrigation.

Why not take a trip down there and see this land which you can buy now for $25 an acre?

Talk to owners who clear from $300 to $500 per acre per year in vegetables—who net $90 per acre in alfalfa—who raise

24,000 pounds of Onions from one acre and sell at 2 1/2 cents per pound. That is what is actually being done to-day, now, in this "Winter Vegetable Garden of America." Double yield, because the soil is rich and new and the climate right every month in the year.

Plumbing Progress

What distinguishes the modern house of to-day from the homes of ten and twenty years ago? Not the architectural changes; the number of rooms, nor their size. The change that marks the progress of the years is most evident in the plumbing of the home. Modern fixtures and open plumbing, conforming to sanitary laws and contributing to good health, are the most noteworthy improvements in house-building.

We are modern plumbers. The work we do, whether repairing a pipe or installing a complete bath room is high grade and finished.

We sell and install "Standard" Porcelain Enamelled plumbing fixtures and the fame of these widely advertised goods assures you high quality. The guaranteed excellence of "Standard" Ware is backed by our own reputation for handling only the best. Illustrated booklet "Modern Home Plumbing" free.

CLEAN SKIMMING CREAM SEPARATORS

Clean skimming is the first consideration in the purchase of a cream separator. That is what you buy a separator to accomplish. But there are two kinds of clean skimming. One is under ideal or favorable conditions—warm milk from fresh cows, running thin cream, with reduced capacity. The other is under practical every-day farm use conditions—with milk sometimes warm and sometimes cool, cows as they come, cream as heavy as possible instead of as thin, and capacity large so that the work is finished that much more quickly.

These two kinds of clean skimming mark the first great difference between the DE LAVAL and other kinds of cream separators. There is a small but material difference between the DE LAVAL and the other kinds of machines under favorable conditions. There is a BIG difference under the practical every-day use conditions—the difference between the "ALPHA-DISC" system and other superior constructional features of the DE LAVAL machines and even the best of other separators.

This is the difference which of itself saves the cost of a DE LAVAL Farm machine in six months or a year, and in ordinary use several times a year, with the result that 93% of the world's creamery separation today is done with DE LAVAL machines. A DE LAVAL catalogue makes plain the REASONS for this difference and is to be had for the asking.

Utilization with their neighbors, produce a thousand variations in the next crop. The importance of isolation of the various new forms is apparent.

In conclusion, Prof. Densmore said that it was too early to pass judgment on the new theory; that DeVries, himself, does not claim to see the end. But that it is of the utmost importance, can not be doubted.

Turbine Engines.

To E. H. Zickler, general foreman for the C. & N. W. Ry. Co., had been assigned the topic "Turbine Engines." By means of charts he explained the difference in principle between the reciprocating engine with its oscillating straight-line motion; the rotary in which the steam pushes a piston, and the turbine where the force acts directly on the working part. Using the simple illustration of a garden hose in action, he showed how water, steam, or gas could be made to do work not only by pushing a piston but by flowing in circular paths, the velocity playing the main part instead of the pressure, as in the case of the reciprocating engine. The DeLaval, Curtis, and Hamilton & Hoogworth types were explained in detail. The principal advantage of the turbine lay in the fact that it had few wearing parts, needed about one-fifth the floor space required by a reciprocating engine, oil was not needed in the valves or cylinders and the condensed steam could be utilized in laundries, and so forth, and the energy could be so directed by the use of motors that it would not be necessary to start up a whole machine shop to cut a bolt.

Electric Lamps.

J. C. Cravath, of Chicago, one of the editors of the Electric World, outlined the development of electric lamps, beginning with the experiments with platinum as a filament; the substitution of carbon; the rise within the past three years of a half a dozen new types of incandescent in some of which the new ductile metal, tantalum, and in others graphitized carbon filaments had been employed, with the increasing power with the same current. Following this development there had been collateral progress in reflectors which had served to economize the waste light above the horizontal and greatly increase that below. With the assistance of P. H. Korst the speaker was enabled to exhibit in full operation the various types of lamps and reflectors he was discussing.

Aerial Navigation.

Earle M. Gates gave a very interesting talk on "Aerial Navigation," illustrated with a number of splendid drawings of his own handiwork. He went back to mythological times and described the efforts of Daedalus to fly and the disastrous experiment of Icarus. Coming down to more recent times, he described the invention of Otto Lilienthal, Israel Ludlow's aeroplane, the work of the late Prof. Langley of the Smithsonian Institute, and the present efforts the Wright brothers of Dayton, Ohio. The evolution of balloons which had resulted in Santos Dumont's dirigible apparatus and his "bird of prey," a gas bag and aeroplane combined, were described. The speaker closed his remarks with a citation from the classic story of the experiences of Darius Green.

commercial publication, printed as from "our own correspondent," says "our own" one has evidently been drinking too unguardedly from the constant well of inaccuracy, which springs from the department of agriculture and gushes unceasingly through its bureau of chemistry. Over this unflattering spring of misinformation presides the illustrious "Dr. Wiley," discoverer of the celebrated Schweitzer system of milling, agreeably ready at all times to ladle out to the thirsty newspaper reporter facts concerning the manufacturing business of the country which have filtered through this wonderful bureau. Hither comes the correspondent, pilgrim, eager for sensation, and he never goes away unsatisfied. Ninety-nine per cent of the adulterations discovered and exploited by the bureau of chemistry are purely imaginary. As for the manufacturers of adulterated flour, there are none of them. If our own correspondent were told otherwise at the bureau of chemistry, which was probably the case, he was the victim of one of the many misrepresentations of the truth for which that exceedingly windy department is responsible. Accurate chemical analyses of the information derived from this source would show the following:

Few tears have been shed over the ship subsidy bill. The writer has been an advocate of legislation designed to rehabilitate the merchant marine for a number of years. During this period many propositions have been advanced, including tonnage, tax, discriminating duties, mail and cargo subsidies. For various reasons it has been found not to be feasible to adopt any of the plans. Free ships would undoubtedly help the merchant marine but would certainly not help American ship yards. The great thing to be desired is the establishment of new lines, the transportation of our food, products and manufactures in American bottoms, and reasonably fast steamers for auxiliary cruisers in time of war. The bill which passed the senate was prepared by a joint commission after the most painstaking research in the subject of the merchant marine. It was then subjected to all sorts of tinkering and when it finally came out of the house it was in such a shape that only large combinations of capital could well take advantage of its provisions. The only thing that the writer has heard said in favor of the proposition is that it is a "step in the right direction." Only on this ground can any true friend of the American merchant marine regret its failure.

BIG SCANDAL IN COLUMBUS

PAVING CONTRACT BRIBERY RESULTS IN INDICTMENTS.

City Officials and Corporation Men in the Grand Jury Net for Alleged Corruption.

Columbus, O., March 13.—Three members of the board of public service, two city employees, the president of the Cleveland Trinidad Paving company and two of its employees, and the Columbus manager of the American Sewer Pipe company, were indicted Tuesday by the grand jury as the result of an investigation of charges of bribery in connection with the contract for paving East Broad street, the most fashionable residence street of the city.

The disclosures in the paving scandal were precipitated by a confession made by Nelson Cannon, former Columbus superintendent of the Cleveland Trinidad Paving company, to which the paving contract was awarded. According to Cannon's story, Fred J. Immel, president of the Columbus board of public service, and Fred Lied, vice president of the board, were each promised $3,000 for voting to give the contract to the Cleveland Trinidad company, and Charles E. Burr, the third member of the board, was promised $2,000 for his vote. It was also alleged by Cannon that the full $3,000 was paid to Immel and that $2,300 was paid to Lied at different times, by President Bramley, of the Cleveland-Trinidad company, H. C. Lang, Columbus representative of the company, and himself.

Arthur A. Beck, assistant city engineer, who resigned immediately after the bribery disclosures, is alleged to have been promised a division of all money allowed on padded estimates, and Alfred A. Shoemaker, a street paving inspector, is alleged to have been on the pay roll of the Cleveland-Trinidad company for two dollars a week. According to Cannon, Beck received about $500.

The following are the indictments in detail: Fred J. Immel, president of the board of public service, four indictments for accepting bribes. He appeared in court and was released on $12,000 bond.

Fred Lied, member of board of public service, two indictments, accepting bribes. Released on $6,000 bond.

Charles E. Burr, member of board of public service, four indictments; one for bribery and three for making purchases for the city from a firm in which he is personally interested. His bond was fixed at $12,000.

H. F. Bramley, president of the Cleveland-Trinidad Paving company, seven indictments for giving bribes. Released on $21,000 bond.

Nelson Cannon, former superintendent of the Cleveland-Trinidad Paving company in Columbus, six indictments, offering and giving bribes. Released on $12,000 bond.

H. C. Lang, superintendent of the Cleveland-Trinidad Paving company, four indictments, giving bribes. Released on $12,000 bond.

R. Stanley Rhoads, Columbus manager of the American Sewer Pipe company, one indictment for offering a bribe. Released on $3,000 bond.

Arthur A. Beck, former assistant city engineer, three indictments, accepting bribes. Released on $6,000 bond.

Alfred Shoemaker, city street paving inspector, one indictment, accepting bribe. Released on $300 bond.

ATTEMPT TO WRECK TRAIN.

Switch to Roundhouse at Clinton, Mo., Thrown Open.

Clinton, Mo., March 13.—A sixth attempt to wreck the Clinton line passenger train, a local on the St. Louis & San Francisco railway, was made here Monday night. The passengers escaped with a slight shaking up.

This time the wrecker, who it is thought seeks the life of Frank Silvers, the engineer, was bold enough to enter the Clinton yards and while the train was at the depot threw the roundhouse switch.

Passes Anti-Lobby Bill.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 13.—The House Tuesday afternoon passed the anti-lobby bill as amended in the senate and it now goes to the governor for signature. The bill has no emergency clause and will not take effect until June. The senate passed the house bill providing that all saloons shall close daily throughout the state between one and five a. m.

Sage $10,000,000 for Reform.
Albany, N. Y., March 13.—Mrs. Russell Sage has set aside the sum of $10,000,000 to be known as the Sage foundation and to be devoted to the improvement of social and living conditions in the United States. A bill incorporating the foundation was introduced in the legislature Tuesday.

MAKES NO HEADWAY AGAINST STRIKERS

LOUISVILLE STREET CAR COMPANY RUNS FEW CARS.

MOVE FOR INTERVENTION

Citizens' Committees Confer with Mayor and Corporation President—Half a Dozen Persons Are Injured.

Louisville, Ky., March 13.—A continuation of the disorders of Monday, the suspension of service at three o'clock in the afternoon after an intermittent and ineffectual service, and the first move towards intervention by the commercial interests of the city marked the third day of the street car strike. During the day half a dozen persons, all policemen or employees of the company, were hurt, none of them dangerously, however, by stones and flying glass as the result of attacks on cars by strike sympathizers.

A few more cars were run than on Monday, and they made more trips, but the patronage amounted to nothing. Committees representing the Commercial club, board of trade and the Merchants and Manufacturers' associations called on Mayor Barth late in the afternoon to lay before him reports of inefficiency and inadequate force furnished by the police department for protection of cars and passengers and suppression of disorders. Mayor Barth gave emphatic assurance that the men available for duty had done all possible, but he further pledged himself to see that the police protection would be up to all requirements from now on.

Arbitration Is Urged.

The committees sent subcommittees to confer with President Minary, of the railway company. The result of this conference was strictly guarded. It was reported, however, on good authority that the commercial bodies urged Mr. Minary to consent to an arbitration of the strike issues, but that no definite decision was arrived at and further negotiations are looked for Wednesday.

Conditions Tuesday denoted some improvement in the work of the police department, but even with officers on every car sent out there were not enough men to quell the disorders. Cars were stoned and their windows broken, switches plugged, wagons placed on tracks, and in one instance a barricade six feet high was erected across the tracks at Eighteenth and Chestnut streets.

No Suburban Service.

The suburban service, which was discontinued at three o'clock Monday afternoon, has not been resumed and the street car company announced that no attempt will be made at present to operate cars on these branches of the city service. The railway company during the morning returned to the post office several pouches of mail which they were unable to deliver at substations because no men could be found who would take the cars to the desired points. In one instance the United States mail sign was torn from a car.

Mysterious Tragedy in Minnesota.

Fairfax, Minn., March 13.—Henry Kaatz, aged 25, Monday night shot and seriously wounded Martin Kunz, aged 40, and then killed himself by firing a bullet into his head. No motive for the crime has been discovered. The men had been boon companions for years and there had been no altercation preceding the shooting.

Furniture Trust Indicted.

Chicago, March 13.—Two indictments against the school desk and furniture combine were returned Tuesday by the federal grand jury. T. A. Holbrook, declared by the government to be the head of the combine, is named in each indictment and is the only individual so named.

AMMUNITION NOT GUARDED.

Testimony of Army Officers in the Brownsville Inquiry.

Washington, March 13.—That ammunition used in infantry rifles is not guarded as closely as has been claimed by discharged negro soldiers and that it is possible for soldiers to obtain extra ammunition, was brought out in the Brownsville inquiry Tuesday before the senate committee on military affairs. This testimony was given by Capt. D. W. Kilburn of the Twenty-sixth Infantry.

The same witness declared that citizens of Brownsville made threats that they would run negro troops out of town if they were brought there to supply white troops, and on this point he was corroborated by Lieut. Edwin Thompson, who was quartermaster of the same regiment at Fort Brown.

Reversible Cognomen.

When the first lady of the land met the first lord of the land she, with a gracious bow, presented her card on which was written her name—Eve. Not knowing how she read it, i. e., whether from right to left or from left to right, and desiring to be right in either case, he took his pencil and wrote: "Madam Im Adam."

Of course, this is old. There is in Harlem to-day, however, a contractor and dealer in glass, who, when weary from writing, his name from left to right, can reverse the process without in any way changing the spelling: Leon Noel.

PRAISE WORK ON THE CANAL

COMMERCIAL CLUB PILGRIMS FOUND CONDITIONS GOOD.Believe Task Can Be Completed in Eight Years—Laborers Well Cared For.

Charleston, S. C., March 13.—Conditions in general in the Panama canal zone are declared to be extremely favorable for completion of the canal within the eight years ending January 1, 1915, as estimated by the engineers in charge of the work, in the opinion of the committees from commercial clubs in Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati and St. Louis, who arrived here Tuesday after a visit to the isthmus.

This opinion is embodied in a series of reports, all of which were approved by all members of the party. From them a general report will be prepared by the chairman of the several groups under whose direction they were made and the general report will be submitted to the clubs represented by the committees.

The investigators found that some of the complaints which have been made concerning the preparation of food for the laborers appeared to be well founded. They suggest that notice be taken of these complaints and that the necessary changes be made. Of the organization built up by those in charge of the work in the zone the committee has only words of highest commendation. Sanitary conditions are declared to be excellent. Of the housing of employes the report says:

"The committee saw in Panama more suitable and well built and comfortable homes for laborers than are provided anywhere else in the world for a similar purpose."

The force of laborers is declared to be adequate and efficient and the committee expresses a belief that no difficulty will be experienced in recruiting the force from time to time as conditions may demand. In this connection the opinion is expressed that the laborers will be drawn from the white and the black races, "because Chinese labor is not wanted."

EDITOR GRAVES ASSAULTED.

Knocked Down by J. H. Crutchfield on Atlanta Street.

Atlanta, Ga., March 13.—Col. John Temple Graves, editor of the Georgian, was assaulted in the street here Tuesday by J. H. Crutchfield, who recently was tried here for attempted assassination of Mrs. Crutchfield. The assailant, who is a large, heavily built man, approached from behind and struck Col. Graves with his fist at the base of the skull, knocking him down. A friend of Col. Graves came to his rescue and the assailant soon fled, with a number of citizens in pursuit. Crutchfield, reaching to his hip pocket, warned his pursuers not to follow and made his escape. He was arrested later. Col. Graves was not seriously hurt.

Indicted for Embezzlement.
Columbus, O., March 13.—Lawson Emerson, former clerk of the supreme court of Ohio, was indicted by the grand jury Tuesday on the charge of embezzlement. Emerson was recently permitted to resign after charges of neglect of official duty had been preferred against him by the court. Monday he paid into the state treasury $3,153, the amount of an alleged shortage in his accounts.

GREAT WORK OF WIRELESS.

Point Loma Station Gets Messages from the Atlantic.

Vallejo, Cal., March 13.—Commander H. C. Gearing, chief of the equipment department of the Mare Island navy yard, has received a wireless message from San Diego stating that the wireless station at Point Loma, near San Diego, on Sunday night caught the navy yard at Pensacola, Fla. At that moment Pensacola was taking a wireless message from Washington, D. C. The operator at Point Loma caught Washington and also a wireless message from the battleship Connecticut, now on the Atlantic ocean, which was communicating with Washington from New York harbor.
